According to the Los Angeles Times, Chaplin has instructed his attorney to effect a settlement with the attorney of his child wife and the settlement will be completed shortly.
It is reported that the girl-bride wants her comedian husband to provide a trust fund of from $100,000 to $100,000 for their child, yet to be born.

GIVEN B. A. A. WATCH AND STICKPIN FROM GOVERNOR FULLER

"I am feeling in good condition, although my cold seems a bit worse. The train ride tired me, but I hope to be in better condition tonight. I am glad to be in Boston."—Paavo Nurmi's statement to the Boston American on his arrival in Boston.
Nurmi the nimble—Finn of the flashing feet—rolled into the Hub today and into the arms of a welcoming committee long and numerous enough to clutch a King, or even the Prince of Wales.
Hundreds of curious clogged Huntington avenue and the area in the vicinity of the Back Bay station as the little blonde buster of world records stepped from the train and was rushed to the Boston Athletic Club in the midst of an old-time flying wedge.
There he had a gold watch thrust upon him by the B. A. A. A stickpin was presented later by Governor Alvan T. Fuller. Then Paavo was allowed to get his breath and shake the cinders of the New Haven from his clothing.
It was 3:35 when the modern marvel of the spiked shoes rolled into the station and ended his long journey from New York.
The jangle of fragments of more than a dozen busted records sounded as he reached down with spidery legs for the station platform and the shiny newness of records set up since his arrival, glinted.

MISSING LEGINSKA IS REPORTED IN BOSTON

Two indications came today that Ethel Leginska, missing pianist and concert artist, is in Boston. They were the statements by a Providence business man that he saw Leginska in the lobby of the Hotel Touraine, and a telephone call received at the Coppy Piano Store today from a woman who said she was Leginska.

TAXI DRIVERS TAKE STRIKE VOTE SUNDAY

A strike vote will be taken by Boston taxi drivers at a special meeting tomorrow afternoon.
The drivers receive $4 for a day of nine hours. The new wage scale for $4.25 for nine hours' work, with overtime paid for at the rate of 50c an hour, instead of the present rate of 25 cents. A majority of the taxi cab companies in Boston employ taxi drivers, but others, employing unorganized men, pay their drivers less than the union scale for day work, but add commissions on the fares of each driver.

A screen star of the first magnitude marks the climax of an unusual life affair that has perplexed the movie picture industry here since the first announcement of the secret marriage.

From the time that Chaplin signed away to the Mexican wife of Emiliano, when he met Lita Grey, her mother and grandmother, and the marriage ceremony was performed, the marriage has been the talk of Hollywood.

Recently had the couple returned to Chaplin's forty-room mansion in Beverly Hills, where he had been living since the divorce from Lita Grey, by his constant and assumed disavowal of the match.

Chaplin, within a week of the divorce, had been seen in the picture studios with his mother and his grandmother. He went around in the same old worn-out suit as the father he left while the sixteen-year-old bride was in the picture studios.

The nation was left in some doubt as to his future. His mother, who came to an emotional breakdown when she learned of the divorce, was supposed to be on her way to Europe by the time that the divorce was granted.

Chaplin was seen with his bride in a picture studio in Hollywood. It was only a few days ago that the picture studio was seen with his bride in a picture studio in Hollywood.

Recovers Rings

MISS HELEN NICHOLSON
Back Bay resident is happy today because diamond rings, which she values at $2,000, are back in her possession after she searched 1,000 aprons in the laundry to which she had sent her weekly wash.

There are still some honest people in Boston, said Miss Helen Nicholson of No. 409 Boylston street, today, after she had recovered three diamond rings, valued at $2,000, which she, unknowningly, had sent to be "washed" with the rest of this family laundry.

She hurried to the laundry and, with little hope of succeeding, began a search for the rings.

However, after carefully going through the pockets of more than 1,000 aprons, she found her own and the rings were just as she had left them.

CHILD, 3, RESCUES GIRL OVERCOME BY GAS CALLS AID ON FINDING AUNT ON FLOOR

Unconscious from gas fumes, fifteen-year-old Mary Ferguson of No. 84 Spear street, Melrose, was saved from death today by the act of her three-year-old niece, Lillian Ferguson.

Awaking from a nap, the baby smelled gas, discovered her aunt lying on the kitchen floor and, running to the house of a neighbor, gave the alarm.

Mary was rushed to the hospital, where a pulmoner was used successfully in reviving her, and it is expected she will recover.

Mary was keeping house alone during the absence of her parents and those of little Lillian. While the child was asleep upstairs, Mary went to the kitchen and lighted the gas stove, apparently to prepare a meal.

In some unexplained manner the flame was extinguished and the room became filled with the fumes of gas, which overcame the girl.

Some time later the baby awoke, and going downstairs, smelled a strange odor, which she traced to the kitchen. Opening the door she saw her aunt lying on the floor, while waves of gas poured out almost overwhelming the child.

She ran to the home of Henry Miller at No. 74 Spear street, and told him about a "funny smell," and that her "Auntie" was "dead."

Miller hurried to the Ferguson home, shut off the gas and took Mary into the outer air. A neighbor's automobile was then commandeered for a trip to the Melrose Hospital.

CHURCH FIRE LOSS $25,000

Worcester, Jan. 31.—Fire in Trowbridge Memorial Methodist Church here caused the local police concern because they have been guarding all church and private school property in the city for several nights.

There have been disastrous fires of mysterious origin in parochial schools in towns nearby and a small secondary fire in the chapel of St. Ann's Catholic Church here, Wednesday.

It was found, however, that today's fire was a result of an overloaded furnace. The loss was $25,000.

COMPARE THESE, MR. COOLIDGE!

President Coolidge says Miss Watson of Kansas is a beauty. How does she compare with Bay State girls?

HAS COOLIDGE AN EYE FOR REAL BEAUTY?

What does President Coolidge think of the beauties of his own native New England?

Boston gallants declare them to be as far above the products of other sections of the country as a rose is to a sunflower.

When the President made his now famous declaration that he considered Miss Vida Watson of Kansas one of the best looking girls he had seen in many a day, he called out the knights of New England to bring their ladies to the fore.

As a proof of the contention that the feminine purchase of New England outshines that of Kansas or any other part of the United States, the Boston American today offers Miss Hazel J. Masters of No. 82 Winthrop street, Quincy.

After looking at the accompanying photograph of Miss Masters, together with that of the Kansas beauty, we leave it to any fair minded citizen to say whether the New England girl suffers by the comparison.

PRETTY GIRLS OF NEW ENGLAND ARE INVITED TO SEND IN THEIR PHOTOGRAPHS, OR IF YOU HAVE A FRIEND WHO IS RENOWNED FOR HER BEAUTY

SEND HER PICTURE ALONG FOR PUBLICATION

"I'm sure the girls I've seen in Boston would have eliminated me from the contest in Kansas."

Thus does Miss Watson, a freshman at Butler College, Kan., make generous concession to her Boston sisters.

The pretty girl from the Kansas wheat belt is testing the country with shocks of wheat, in the interests of Kansas wheat growers. Boston girls are proud, because President Coolidge, while on Beacon Hill, had plenty of opportunity to observe the charms of Boston girls.

Meanwhile, Miss Watson is riding in Pullmans for the first time in her life, eating at city hotels and having the important people in all the cities of her home state in.

Today she is at the Hotel Bellevue and newspaper reporters crowded Kansas wheat while Miss Watson calmly made a tour of local stores with her chaperon.

GIBBONS LAYS CLAIM TO JACK DEMPSEY'S CHAMPIONSHIP

'RECORD BEST' RECORDS

Detroit, Jan. 31 (A.P.).—Jimmy Gibbons made defiant claim to the world's heavyweight boxing championship today following his defeat of 'Tiny Tim' Herman here last night.

Gibbons believes he is the man whose record entitles him to the crown Jack Dempsey has not defended for more than a year and which the champion is declaring he will relinquish next fall.

In defense of his claim, Gibbons proposes he is ready to meet any local contender for the title, indicating that he believed Harry Wells at the head of the list of men who might challenge his claim. He is ready to box Wells, he declared.

QUITS LIGHT HEAVIES. In making claim to the heavyweight title, Gibbons also announced he was out of the light-heavyweight ranks and that he had withdrawn forfeit money he had formerly put out for matches with some of the men in the light-heavyweight division. One of the funds drawn down was for a meeting with Gene Tunney.

Gibbons' decision to eliminate himself from the lighter division came at the end of his training for the Herman bout. In preparation for this, he had an experiment, he declared as far as he thought desirable and "drifted out" as much as possible. The result was 175 pounds. Some of Gibbons' trainers thought he had drawn too far for a fight even against a man of Herman's class.

OPEN TO MEET ALL. Gibbons feels the experience of New York promoter, known to the New York boxing commission, in attempting to get some of the heavier men into the ring with him for the bout in which he eventually met "Kid" Norfolk is a part of the basis for championship claims.

"I have been open to meet any of them in the past," Gibbons declared in making emphatic declaration that he was open to meet any legal heavyweight contender, "and I am open now to meet any men of the class who will get into the ring with me. With probably is in the lead for consideration for a match, and I am ready to meet him. Fitz and Jack Russell are other possibilities, and I have been, and am open to meet them."

Detroit, Mich. Jan. 31.—Negotiations to match Tom Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight, with Louis Firth of London and Tony Puente on the Pacific coast are now being conducted by Eddie Kane, the St. Paul manager, announced today. Gibbons' plans were to leave for New York today to confer with Tex Rickard.

FIRE CHIEF'S GIRL GETS HER ORDERS

Miss Sennott dashed to a downtown fire last night, with her father, declares this fraternity gets in the way of the firemen. So he has begun the reform in his own home. The girl can now attend only daylight fires.

CATHERINE SENNOTT

HOUSE AGREES SCARLET FEVER TO ROTE ON COMBATED POSTAL BILL BY SERUM

Washington, Jan. 31.—The House agreed today to vote next Tuesday on the question of sending back to the Senate the Postal Pay and Rate Increase Bill, which House leaders charge contains revenue legislation which the Senate had no right to initiate.

Chairman Green of the Ways and Means Committee was instructed by his committee today to propose a return of the measure, and Tuesday was set for the vote so that all members could be present. Only a majority is necessary for action. The measure, which was passed by the Senate yesterday, reached the House today.

Senate Action Pleases

Hill Postal Employees

Postal employees in Boston were greatly cheered today because of passage by the United States Senate of the postal pay and rate bill in defiance of House leaders who served notice they would ask immediate return of the measure on the ground that it is partially revenue-raising legislation which can be constitutionally initiated only in the House.

"We feel that passage of the bill by the Senate is a partial victory," said John A. Hays, president of Boston Local 195, National Federation of Postoffice Clerks. "It marks progress. That's why we are pleased."

"Too much credit cannot be given to the Senate," said Hays. "We believe can be depended upon to safeguard the interests of postal employees in the House."

"We would have preferred to have the Senate act on the bill, but we are willing to have the House measure amended."

Chief Sennott May Take Away Daughter's Gold Badge

CAN'T SEE FAST LIVE FIRES BY NIGHT DEMPSEY

Girl "Spark," 18, Is Only Allowed to Run With Engines During Daytime

Fire Chief Daniel P. Sennott today ordered his eighteen-year-old daughter, Catherine, transferred to the day platoon of "sparks."

Catherine doesn't like it, for as everyone knows, a fire doesn't look nearly so spectacular in the day time as in the dark of night.

But orders are orders, and Chief Sennott has made it plain that if his daughter doesn't obey them he will revoke the gold badge which has made the young woman a conspicuous figure at many of the biggest blazes in recent years.

The order came at the breakfast table at the Sennott home.

CATHERINE'S STORY.

Instead of the customary "for the good of the service" at the foot of the order, the one read at the Sennott breakfast table today read "for the good of my daughter's health."

Some of those familiar with the chief say it is possible there is an other reason.

The chief is handsome. That in itself is a risk. A fire chief, they recall that a recent three-alarm blaze Catherine at an hour close to midnight, made her way to the scene, found her father, and with hundreds of spectators looking on, threw her arms about the fire chief's neck and kissed him. How could the spectators know she was the chief's daughter?

"You know dad has been telling me right along," said Catherine today, "to keep out of the line, but being a kid with a gold badge makes me feel so much better than those grown ups that are teased around by the cops that I simply can't stay away."

SETS A DEADLINE.

"Every time he sees me at a big fire, especially after bedtime, he gets after me and tells me that he will revoke my badge, but I just look at him and say, 'Dad, I'm a kid and I can't stay away from the fire.'"

"Dad and I are pals and so I can't stay away from the fire," she said.

"Today's order is something different, though. I guess Mother says she will enforce it and pay says she means what she says, so I hope that the next big fire comes in before my deadline."

"I know that from now on my face won't be familiar at the midnight alarms," she concluded ruefully.

6 OF 6-48 CREW RECOVERING IN HOSPITAL

Poerthmouth, N. H., Jan. 31.—With six of the officers and crew of the wrecked submarine S-48 recovering in the U. S. Naval Hospital here, and the other 21 up and about as usual, nothing is expected in connection with the grounding of the submarine, save the naval investigation and the disposal of the wrecked craft.

The six men confined in the hospital suffered largely from chlorine gas poisoning coupled with exposure, and they will be up and about in a day or two.

Preliminary operations in connection with refloating the submarine were begun today when the navy tug Peacock was sent to the stranded vessel. The tug carried a heavy anchor to move the stern of the S-48 and prevent her moving with the action of the waves. It was also planned to pump water from the flooded compartments of the submarine.

Los Angeles, Jan. 31.—A suit for an accounting of the estate of Lieutenant George L. LeMoyne, who was killed in the French colony here as a soldier in the French army during the world war, is on file in Superior court here. The petition charged the widow, Susan LeMoyne, with the estate which should have been divided among the heirs.

NOT ALARMED OVER FIRE DANGERS

When fire first broke out at No. 142 Tremont street early this morning, two young women who live there failed to become excited. Helen Trumbull insisted on returning to her apartment to rescue her pet dog. Picture at top shows Miss Trumbull holding her beloved "Poodle." The other picture is Miss Vera Duff, who was on the steamship Boston when that craft was rammed off Point Judith last year by an all tanker. Miss Duff says that after her experiences on the Boston apartment house fires are mere bag of tricks.

BANDIT IS USED AS SHIELD BY POLICEMAN

Patrolman James Brickley of the East Dedham street station used the body of one bandit to protect himself from the revolver of another bandit in a desperate battle in a Cleveland street luncheon early today.

Brickley, through the thick of the fight held on his own prisoner, but the second escaped. The man under arrest gave his name as William Dempsey, but refused to give an address or tell anything about himself.

The pair entered the Cleveland street restaurant operated by Hagen and Harrow Alhagen, brothers, on a street in the rear of the home of Dr. Harold Howland at No. 41 Harvard avenue.

A short struggle in the rear of the fire, which caused loss estimated at $500.

A basement fire at No. 142 Tremont street drove more than 100 occupants of the building to the street at about midnight. Firemen were called to the building.

Shortly after 3 o'clock the first fire started in the basement. The occupants were once more forced to leave the apartment. Martin Trumbull returned to her apartment and rescued her pet dog, Duff.

Two other young women who were driven out by the smoke are Evelyn Philip, a vocal student, and Vera Duff, who was on the steamship Boston when that vessel was rammed, recently.
